THE REAL ISSUE IN THE STATE ELECTIONS.

[From the New York Times.]

It is plain that the different State elections this fall are in reality mere skirmishes before the general conflict, which will culminate next year, over the control of the National Government. And so far as the Democrats are concerned, a peculiar bitterness is lent to these opening contests by the fact that they involve the Democratic nomination for President. This it comes to be clear that while the Democrats are as eager as they ever were to defeat the Republicans there are a number of factions that party each anxious to gain an advantage over the others. At present the issue in the latter each faction is to show its strength by rolling up Democratic majorities which they may be in the second and earlier of the apparent record which exists in the several States as to their exact relative degree of strength. But the case will be very different when the campaign for the Presidential election and regular those in these States where they are most resolutely contesting it now. Then we shall either see the party badly rent and weakened by the quarrels of its constituent elements, or we shall see an strong Democratic party united as it never will be to secure success. If the question were one of Democratic factions merely—if only the personal fortunes of the various aspirants for the nomination for President were at stake—the country could afford to look on with indifference at the struggle. But it is not. The present political contest is one in which the welfare of the whole country is involved. It is the struggle between the Democratic party and the Republican party for the control of the National Government. And as

In Louisiana.

GOV KELLOGG of Louisiana called upon the Attorney General to-day and had a long conversation respecting affairs in Mississippi and Louisiana. He expressed himself to the effect that the Attorney General's course and conduct in the views of other of the latter to Gov Ames must exercise a good deal of control in Mississippi but in Louisiana and other parts of the south, the disorderly conditions were now remarkably quiet and there were no indications of a renewal of such disturbance as is sometime ago characterized the condition of affairs in that State

TEXAS.

Galveston Slightly Damaged

NEW YORK, Sept. 22 A private despatch from Galveston of the 20th, says the damage to Galveston by the storm is insignificant In thirty days it will be almost forgotten. One big fire would be far more disastrous.

(Signed) WM HENDLEY & CO"

Further Details—Two Hundred Lives Lost at Saluria.

Further details of the storm in Texas are as follows Charles Gordon, agent of the steamers at Indianola, writes that the wharves at the pier and at Saluria will approximate 200 The whole four pilots at Saluria, except Sim Brown, are drowned. Morgan's Indianola wharf is entirely destroyed. Seligson & Co., write their Galveston house "We estimate the number of lives lost at 150. Our bank building is secure, we were out burying the dead yesterday; we have to go down it to buy this morning to bury more bodies." Another despatch says "We buried eight bodies yesterday and will continue until all the church-yards are filled." The Masonic Lodge was swept away." Another letter says: "The town of Saluria with nearly everybody and everything in it was washed away, but no particulars are given."

The Damage at Houston.

Corpus Christi is safe. the wind being comparatively light there. Houston people claim that the damages were exaggerated, they say the losses were about $50,000 Capt. Christian of the steamer Diana who went up the Bayou, Sunday, reports matters pretty serious at Red Fish Bar. Nine boats and tugs of Morgan's fleet are sunk there. No lives were lost among Morgan's crew. Not a solitary house is left standing on the bank between Morgan's Point and Lynchburg. At Lynchburg Capt. Christian fully realized the Desolation, Wreck and Ruin.

Not a house remains of the village. He was met by about thirty houseless men, some of whom took refuge on board the steamer They were literally destitute of everything. Christian gave them a barrel of flour, four sacks of meal and provisions, and a subscription for their benefit was being liberally responded to by citizens of Houston,

Condition of the Railroads.

A Galveston special, dated the 21st, says the Central railroad is not, damaged, and trains are running regularly. The Galveston and Houston bridge will be ready for trains to-morrow. No trains have run on the Northern road since Thursday night and travel is entirely stopped. The bridges at Spring and Cypress are down. A passenger train has been lying at Halcom's since Thursday. The road is said to be washed out between Halcom's and Willis. No trains run on the Columbia. A construction train has been sent down to clear the wreck of a train at Pierce Junction, which was blown off Thursday night, the road is badly washed. A gentleman on the 11 A. M. train, on the Central railroad, from Moulin states that he saw no effects of the storm until he reached Hempstead; several houses were blown down at Burton, large trees were uprooted and great damage was done to cotton in the fields.

Damage at Shelby and Hempstead.

A report from Shelby, Long Point, states that the storm was equally as great there The storm at Hempstead lasted 60 hours Here the new Baptist church and Catholic chapel are completely demolished. Half of the front gable of the Planters' Hotel was blown fifteen feet out of place and the brick walls of Falker's and McDade & Crawford's new stores were blown down

MASSACHUSETTS DEMOCRATS.

Opening of the Convention—Speeches by Col. Aspinwall and Mr. Avery.

WORCESTER, Mass., Sept. 22. The Democratic State Convention was opened this morning in Mechanics' Hall at 11 15. For half an hour before the hall was well filled The Chairman, Coll Aspinwall, of the State Central Committee, called to order. After the applause which greeted his advent had subsided, Col. Aspinwall addressed the Convention in congratulatory terms, and advised a careful selection of candidates for the Democratic ticket. When his remarks were concluded Mr. Tower, of Randolph, nominated Edward Avery, of Braintree, for permanent chairman, and he was elected by an unanimous vote. On taking the chair he addressed the convention, saying, as the former speaker had done that Mr Gaston was to be re-nominated, and that the rest of the ticket needed the most careful attention. In concluding he said the Republican party established, nursed and fostered paper money, while the Democratic party is the hard money party and will oppose any currency not redeemable in coin.

Committees Appointed.

Committees on permanent organization and credential were then appointed. Mr Woodbury, of Boston, moved that a committee of one, from each Congressional District, be appointed a committee on resolutions The motion prevailed and the gentlemen were appointed as published in the papers this morning A committee of 13 was appointed to collect and count the ballots for four delegates at large to the National Convention

The morning has been wasted in organization and profitless debate about nothing in particular At 1 o'clock the convention adjourned for dinner.

Afternoon Session—The Nominations.

The Convention reassembled promptly at 2 o'clock Mr. Riley, of Boston, moved that the petition relative to contesting delegates from Ward 2, presented by him at the opening of the Convention, be considered The motion was carried, and, after some discussion on motion of Mr. Drew, of Newton, both sets of delegates were admitted to seats in the Convention. On motion of Mr. Riley, of Boston Mr. Gaston was unanimously renominated by acclamation. Three hearty cheers were given for Gov. Gaston. Mr. L. E. Murray, from the Committee on Credentials, reported that 315 towns were represented by 1,091 delegates. It was voted that all delegates over 21 years of age be invited to take seats on the platform. Gen. Wm F. Bartlett was nominated by acclamation for Lieutenant-Governor, on motion of Hon. John K. Lawrence On motion of Mr Lathrop of Springfield, a committee of two from each District was appointed to nominate the balance of the State ticket

Delegates to the National Convention

Delegates to the National Convention were balloted for and elected as follows P A Collins Boston; J C Abbott do; G Wells Worcester, Edward Avery Braintree, with 4 alternate members of the State Committee 40 in all one from each Senatorial district were elected.

The Platform

is as follows The Democrats and Liberal Republicans of Massachusetts assembled by their delegates in Convention to consider the public exigency and organize for the approaching campaign of political agitation to all honest men for co-operation in their efforts declare and affirm as the basis of their action.

First—We reiterate the declarations comprehensively made by the National Convention at Cincinnati and Baltimore in 1872, accepting the recent amendments to the Federal Constitution as a full and permanent adjustment of political controversies incident to the late war

Second—We demand for the Union the support in full vigor of all its constitutional powers as the supreme authority utterly repudiating all claim of right by any State to secede from the Union or to nullify its laws and we demand for each State as equally inviolable the right to govern itself at its sovereign pleasure subject only to the limitations and obligations of the Federal constitution.

Third—In the interests of public morals the nation's credit and the common welfare, we oppose any further issue by the Government of a currency inconvertible with gold, the world's recognized measure of values and we favor a speedy return to specie payment as essential to the revival of the commerce, business and credit of the country and to the welfare of the laboring masses.

Fourth—We arraign the Republican party for its extravagant expenditures and prodigal waste of the people's money, for its corruption; for its peculation, for its contempt of Constitutional obligations; for its extortionate increase of sinecures and of the salaries of our public officers, for the oppressive, unjust and defective system of taxation, finance and currency, which has degraded public and private morality and brought upon us the present depression in the commercial and industrial interests of the country; for its centralization of powers and its encouragement of monopolies and corporate corruption, for its continuance of incompetent and dishonest men in office, and for its general mismanagement of both the State and National Governments.

Fifth—We view with alarm the increase in this Commonwealth, under the Republican administration, of the public debt by prodigal appropriations for objects not demanded by the public interest. We denounce unnecessary taxation as a great crime We demand a reduction of State expenditures, rigid economy and the utmost limitation of the practice of mortgaging the industry of the future for purposes of doubtful expediency.

Sixth—The interests of capital and labor are identical and any attempt to produce antagonisms between the two must be instantly met by us to both—we favor such legislation as will secure to both an open field and fair play, and to both equal rights and just rewards under the law.

Seventh—We congratulate the good citizens of the commonwealth upon the removal of the odious prohibitory law from the statute books and we confidently expect that the present law with such modifications as experience shall suggest will tend to promote public order and morality and the best interests of temperance.

Eighth—The Democratic party believe in Government of the people, by the people, for the people and therefore oppose any constitutional amendments which limit or restrict the election of private officers by the people.

Ninth—We take an honest pride in the cordial and enthusiastic approval by the people of the whole country in the 4th of June 1875, of the policy of reconciliation, peace and fraternity advocated by the Democratic and Liberal Republican parties in 1872 and welcome with especial satisfaction the assurance that the policy will be inaugurated by the administration to be placed in power in 1876.

Tenth—The late personal Governor, by the wise and prudent execution of his high trust, the family has aroused which have disgraced the Executive Chair of the Commonwealth, the people have been saved from deadly perils to its spotless record as the highest has trusted the constituents of the confidence reposed in him by this Convention will redound to the best interests of this commonwealth.

Eleventh—We have the satisfaction to commend to this Convention Gen. Wm. F. Bartlett, the gallant and noblest soldier whose wounds in the war have hardly ceased to bleed. The ability in civil life and the stern uprightness of his principles on all matters of public life and policy make him peculiarly fit for the high office to which he has been nominated, and we delight to commend him to the people as one who has not sought the laurels of civil office but on whom they have been spontaneously thrust by this Convention as a tribute to his merit.

Twelfth—This Convention commend to the people of the Commonwealth the upright and able gentlemen selected as candidates for the other State offices, in the confident belief that they will be found competent and honest in the tasks for which they have been nominated.

The Other Nominations.

The committee on completion of the nominations reported the following as the balance of the ticket: For Secretary of State, Geo. H. Munroe, of Boston; Treasurer and Receiver, Gen. Watson Howland, of Fairhaven; Attorney-General, Geo. F. Verry, of Worcester; Auditor John E. Fitzgerald. The report was accepted and the names adopted.

Nathan Clark, of Lynn, opposed the third resolution, (on finance) but was answered by Judge Woodbury and others. The resolutions and platform were finally adopted unanimously

THE MARYLAND REPUBLICANS.

The Liberal Convention

ALBANY, Sept. 22. The Liberal State Convention to-day adopted a platform, including the following:

Resolved, That we consider it self-evident that there can be no sound currency but gold, or paper convertible into gold on demand, and that without a speedy return to which National disaster threatens.

Also resolutions favoring local self-government, and that "the school fund be sacredly devoted to our present system of common schools and that appropriations of the people's money to sectarian uses cease," that the Legislature of the State of New York do not think it necessary or useful to nominate a State ticket. They there recommend to the Liberal and Independent voters of the State to support those candidates already in nomination, whose character and experience they most approve, and who in their judgment will earnestly and faithfully cooperate with Gov. Cler's Sarsaparilla

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia and Mandrake with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron, makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent in this climate, depriving the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ or organs, whose action they cripple, and whose functions they disorganize, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, by its alterative power, stirs the torpid liver, and the blood, and the diseased matter is carried out of the system. Thus the cause of the disease is removed, and health follows. Many remarkable cures, such as Ulcerations of the Throat, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, Boils, Tumors, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Pustules on the Face, Blotches, Blains and Sores, Female Weaknesses, Sterility, Leucorrhœa or whites, from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and General Debility. With these acknowledged facts before them, the public need not be deceived into the purchase of worthless nostrums.

THE LATEST FASHIONS.

Further importations of French costumes for autumn and winter show more novelties and small details, but no decided changes. The cuirass, apron over-skirt, and tucker are all retained in modified forms. The polonaise buttoned behind is the newest feature of the season. It is in material rather than design that these costumes appear new. Both silk and woollen stuffs are of two kinds of goods, and in many instances of three. There are the new Russian cloths like figured canes of hair, ladies' habit cloth, bourrette wool basket-woven cloths in plain, plaid and striped patterns, and the striped Algerines.

It is to be observed that the greatest novelty is shown in the new silk and woollen goods. They are still long and lustrous, but are striped differently on the cross and are so narrow that battles cannot be worn with them, indeed battles are entirely abandoned this year. The front waists, apron often wrinkled in endless pleats, show rows of buttons and buttonholes drawn in the left side while the right has square corners below, and the top drapery is held by a pocket that seems to be suspended from the waist and has loops and ends below that catch up the back of the over skirt. Some of these pockets are very large three-cornered and are drawn together at the top by an elastic band, after the manner of old hat.

The new basques are of the shapes now worn with the Eldown collars, with pockets and cuff-sleeves.

The new short over-skirts have the same general breadths as those now worn. Their fullness is entirely confined to the back. The drapery in battles are artistically laid a third below the belt, and underneath appear to be the second and third breadths of the skirt, which keep the battles in shape. The trimmings are combinations of the all-around fringe of short thrums, and of gathered ruffles.

The new polonaises buttoned behind are very graceful garments that show a fine figure to advantage, yet merchants say they will be worn only by young ladies and will not be adopted extensively. They are the most stylish garments of the year, and promise something of the character and princess appearance.

Among costly dress garments are those of Lyons velvet. These are richly figured in many-hued designs, and are imported in ruby, sapphire blue, Bismarck brown, and other rich shades of dark blue. Bismarck brown is the favorite color of this fine velvet, and is combined with cream white and others in the new figured silks and satins. The velvet skirts have narrow flounces of the figured Lyons velvet, and the jackets are of the same, with a short basque and coat sleeves. Some of these jackets are braided with black soutache, and others are trimmed with fringe of jet beads. Others have the fronts and collar of velvet, and the back and sleeves of the figured silk and satin. Some of the new garments are of the same velvet, with black or white silk, with which it is closely interwoven in silk and satin stripes. Others are of the same velvet, with black or white silk, with which it is closely interwoven in silk and satin stripes. Others are of the same velvet, with black or white silk, with which it is closely interwoven in silk and satin stripes.

LETTER CARRIERS.

All letters are delivered free by carriers when addressed to streets and number. People should inform their correspondents of above and have their letters addressed accordingly.

Persons leaving their address at the General Delivery can also have their letters sent, but it is much more convenient to have the street and number given, and they will be delivered earlier than if the name is put out at the office. Carriers make two deliveries daily, the first top supplying the customers of their routes.

Collections are made morning and evening in season for important mails—the down town boxes at 8 o'clock and the up-town boxes thirty minutes before closing mails at the office.

Holidays the Carrier's Window will be open for the delivery of letters from 9 to 10 A. M. and from 7 to 8 P. M. Sundays from 8½ to 9½ A. M.

Any irregularities in the Carriers' department should be reported to the office.

ENVELOPES.

No additional charge will be made for printing the name and residence of letters, around the left hand upper corner of the envelopes furnished by the Post Office Department, (parties ordering will please to send at the Cashier's window), when ordered in lots of not less than 500.

If required, the return of a letter to the writer, if unclaimed within three days, or less, written or printed, with the writer's name, post office and State, across the face, end of the envelope, on the face of the letter will be complied with.

The public are especially recommended to procure Stamped envelopes with which to prepay correspondence. Unpaid letters and letters thus endorsed, if not delivered to the person addressed, are returned to the writer free of charge.
